Gibraltar Tiles Products

These beautiful products were designed by local artist Beatrice Garcia exclusively for The Gibraltar Heritage Trust. They feature tiles which are typically found in the entrance doorways or portónes from buildings in Parliament Lane, Irish Town and Main Street. Made from high quality melamine with a cork backing, they are heat resistant up to 145°C. They add a touch of Gibraltarian colour to any dining table and provide a talking point about something so unique about Gibraltar.

Calendar 2023

This year's calendar features a set of newly discovered images of Gibraltar painted in the late 19th Century by Colonel Francis Seymour Leslie (1851-1925) during his military service in Gibraltar between 1876 to 1880. The scenes captured hark back to a romantic Gibraltar and hinterland 150 years ago, when streets were cobbled and rural views characterised the landscape.

£9.00 (£8.00 for members).

Calendars from previous years are on sale from £1.00 each. Images are ideal for extraction and framing.

Alice's Table (Series) by Alice Mascarenhas.

Alice Mascarenhas was Deputy Editor of The Gibraltar Chronicle. Having retired from the daily grind of the newsroom, she took up a role as a columnist inviting a new guest to her table every week and giving her reader a glimpse into the lives of Gibraltarians from across all sectors of the community. £10.00 per book

Alice's Table is an ever-growing series. Her latest book, Volume IV will be out soon!

From a Hard Place to a Rock by Timandra Slade

A gripping read! First hand accounts of soldiers of the British Expeditionary Force on the Run in World War Two. £18.99

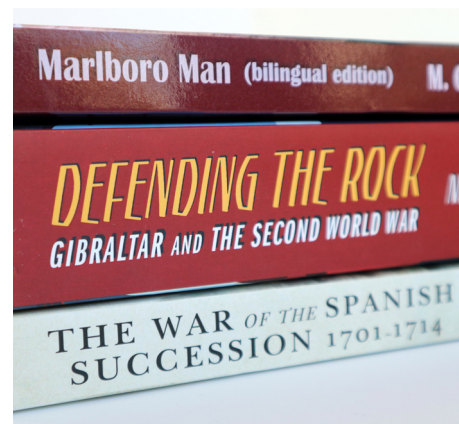

Fire Over the Rock by James Falkner

Drawing on a wide range of contemporary sources, this book describes the Great Siege of Gibraltar (1779-83), the tenacity and endurance shown by the attackers and defenders alike, and the sheer ingenuity of the siege operations mounted by both sides, make the episode an epic of military history. £19.99

In the Shadow of the British Fortress of Gibraltar: The Phoenix Rises 1783 to 1805, by Dr Richard Garcia.

This is the third and final volume of the trilogy, documenting the social history of Gibraltar in the 18th century, from the capture in August 1704 to the decisive Battle of Trafalgar in October 1805, which was fought close to Gibraltar. The entire work covers just over a century. The spotlight in the past has often been turned on the military, naval and political history of Gibraltar in the 18th century and into the early 19th century but this trilogy offers an insight into the social history of the period.

£20.00 (Volume 1 is now out of print. Limited copies of Volume 2 still available.)

Defending the Rock by Nicholas Rankin

A best-seller! This revelatory book, whose characters includes Haile Selassie, Anthony Burgess, and General Sikorski, sets Gibraltar in the wider context of the struggle against fascism, from Italy's invasion of Abyssinia, through the Spanish Civil War, to the end of the Second World War. £9.99

Marlboro Man by M.G. Sanchez

This book revisits the Gibraltar of the late eighties and early nineties, bringing back to life a chaotic era marked by social unrest and large-scale smuggling.

£16.95 (also available in a bilingual version).

Browse our collection of books by M.G. Sanchez

The War of the Spanish Succession by James Falkner

A must have for your library! This book highlights details of a period of history which is often misunderstood, The War of the Spanish Succession 1701 to 1714, which determined the heir to the Spanish throne. £16.99

A Year in the Life of Gibraltar

A Gibraltar Heritage Trust publication, this book was the culmination of a 2011 project. A project seeking to record not just important events that took place on the Rock, but everyday life in Gibraltar, it provides a historical record of Gibraltar's story for future generations. £5.00

We have a large selection of over 40 Osprey titles which focus on different periods of Gibraltar's military, social and political history.

Prices range from £9.99 to £15.99 (ask for more information in our shop).

A History of Churches and Chapels in Gibraltar by Manolo Galliano
